DJ believed in hard work, as attested to by many former co-workers. He was a dedicated community member who contributed much fundraising efforts for Community Living and sports. He was generous with his outlook on life, helping many people in need in various ways. He believed in taking responsibilities and embodied the true traditional meaning of the Seven Grandfathers in a way that brought true healing/understanding to others. DJ loved shopping/planning the menu for the many family get-together's at his sister and brother-in-law's home, loved music and the music scene, CFL football, NHL hockey, visiting with others especially with his children and their families, DJ was also a logger, having learned the ways of the forest from his father, and his uncle Jake from the age of 6. DJ loved to joke, tease, laugh and read. Will also be missed by his faithful feline companions

Oliver 1 and 2.
